

NORTHWEST ACCREDITATION COMMISSION 2010

"The faculty and staff provide a highly effective program that supports student personal, spiritual and academic growth and high achievement of all students through a wide variety of support systems. The school community actively supports their students' growth needs. The school community has multiple opportunities to pray together. They participate in Masses and liturgies planned by students. Each class prays together every day and the outreach program gives the students opportunity to reach out to the greater community."

St. Joseph School is a Parish Catholic grade school founded in 1907 on the traditions of the Society of Jesus and the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary. Located on Capitol Hill in Seattle, the school serves families city-wide and is dedicated to the education, integration, and development of young people from all social, economic and religious backgrounds.

Our Mission is to create a faith-centered community that educates and inspires students to their God given potential. We do this by fostering the values Love, Respect, Service and Integrity

Governance

St. Joseph School reflects the educational vision and mission of St. Joseph Parish and the Catholic Archdiocese of Seattle. The Principal, in conjunction with a dedicated administrative team, oversees the spiritual, academic and student life of all children at the school.

A School Commission, consisting of members from the community, advises the Principal in policy development and long range planning.

The Principal directs the operations of the school including fund development, finance, physical plant, curriculum and staffing.

An Opportunity to Lead

St. Joseph School, the largest Catholic grade school in the Pacific Northwest, is a dynamic, progressive and well-financed institution. The in-coming Principal will build on the school's 100-year tradition of educational excellence. In 2011-2012, the school enters the sixth of a seven year strategic plan, thereby giving the new Principal one year to learn the school's rhythms and processes before developing the next five to seven year plan. The strategic plan sets priorities, establishes financial goals, allocates resources and advances the school's long term vision.

A professional staff and a dedicated community of parents and alumni, known for their commitment, assist the Principal both internally and externally to promote social justice and outreach.

"Collaborative interaction" best describes the successful new Principal's leadership style. With a Parish, a school community, an alumni population, the Archdiocese of Seattle and a reputation more than 100 years in the making, the next leader for St Joseph School needs to engage and ignite the entire community.
